Craig: Hello.

and welcome again to the kinky boys podcast. I'm Craig this week, joining me is Buster.

Buster: Hello.

Craig: And today we will be talking about a very big requested topic. Yes. Stripped drip, drip, drip, drip. Yes. And Buster. You are a bit of a piss affection art.

Buster: I fucking love this. It is completely different from every other type of fetish to me. I, it feels so wholesome. It feels so good. It feels so DVM. It feels so rewarding. I fucking love this, and I'm really excited about this.

Craig: yeah, I mean that adjective of wholesome is quite interesting. So I think we'll get up to that,

Buster: How.

Craig: yes, so. Let's start off with the basics. What do we mean by piss in a fetish context?

Buster: Using urine to either drinking drenching swallowing using it to be deviant using it to be. In a power context using it in a making that, that, that idea about making something clean, dirty. Oh, there's so many words you can use for this.

Craig: . So yes for a motor sports, you flag. Which I think is fairly obvious and it's commonly referred to as watersports as the most common euphemism, although there are others.

Buster: Yeah, I find it really interesting. How over the last few years in the kink scene, maybe just in London, certainly I've seen it more on social media that piss has become much more acceptable, much more, almost like a core kink that both new bees and experienced people get exposed to.

I think when I first joined the kink scene, there were people that went stream to pleasure, which pissed NY in the. And there were like that. But other than that, like, nobody really did piss and it was something that I think maybe this is a sign of my ex inexperienced back at the time, but it seemed like it was like the kink scene.

And then the piss guys were off doing their own thing. Whereas now it seems like pisses, pisses, everyone. And I find that like I got into PIs through somebody else that was into piercers. So often the case and yeah, it was like that deep interaction that became really, really alluring. And I think a lot of people have found that in the Kingston of late, but I was just kind of reflecting earlier on just how.

How much piss has become this mainstream thing almost within the kink world, where it's not just something, a master slave dynamic. And it's the same with Chassidy. I think we spoke about before how a tumbler made a generation of Chassidy whores and I love it. And it's kind of a piss is gone the same way where it's.

Fashionable to be in to piss. And I think actually a lot of new guys in the scene worry sometimes because it's almost that they feel like it's almost expected of you to be in, to piss the same way as it is to be almost expected that you're being to pup play and nobody's expected to be in through anything.

You don't have to, you don't have to do anything, but see people say like, oh, I don't like the taste, but almost with the guilty.

Craig: Twins. Yeah. Yeah.

It like these days, it's kind of presented as part of the big three. And I think, again, this goes back to the flagging thing of the standard colors you get from almost every like gear maker is. Blue white, red and yellow. And obviously everyone knows a yellow is for PIs. And it just seems like it's sort of considered one of the big three.

Buster: Yeah. And like, when you think about other bodily fluids, when you think about like vomit fetish or shit, scat fetish it's, it's, it's almost comical and blood fetish. Like these are all considered like dark edge case

Craig: Yeah.

Buster: Yeah. This is. Completely people say, oh, it's because pissy stair island piss really is not Sarah.

And yeah, it's just like, it's just the same as everything else. It's really societal. Frowned on as well. And it like whenever we want it ever says the word R Kelly, like people talk about piss fare more than they talk about the fact they use the P that far. Like, and it's kind of like this, this common thing, like a piss fetish is really looked down.

Craig: Yeah.

it's, it's not considered within the normal sort of barriers of. It's sort of like pain is often accepted as basically normal kink play in wider society, but peace is seen as something especially sort of, for people who are not into it, a lot of wider society would consider it disgusting because it's a bodily fluid.

Buster: Yeah, but why the society doesn't know shit why the society thinks it's not cool to spit in your partner's mouth, but it says it is fine to kiss. Like you can, it's a complete stranger, but if you spit in your partner's mouth, there's something wrong with you.

Craig: Yeah. It's the same transference. Yeah. So you. used the word wholesome and intimate. Can you go deeper into that?

Buster: Yeah. Like, there's the thing, like if I'm every time I come on this, this show, I talk about power and power is everything for me. And like power is just so hot and one of the reasons I find kink, so one of the reasons I find pitch. Such an interesting kink for me is because it transcends power.

There's like power and can't do it in a power kind of way and a Dom subway. But it can be like, it's, I think it's the only thing I'm really comfortable doing as a sub in public, like, or like, I don't even think of it as being a sub. I feel like, yeah, I want to get in the pistol, like a fucking cupboard in Paris.

I want to get like, fuck it. I'm going to wear a leather shirt and a pair of leather trousers in the pistol. This to go, fuck you.

Craig: Oh, am I in a boot black? Just cringed.

Buster: No, no, no. What you have to do is have a specific set of leather for that. You get your language and then your old leather for that providing it's well-oiled I want to get head to toe gray, rubber, and I want to put flippers on and a shock fin on my back and hang around the recon party and the Pittsburgh.

With a snorkel on occasionally jumping out other Piskel or shouting rah loudly, like it's it's not just about power. There's fun to it. I think precisely because it is of those deviant. Culturally repulsive things that is actually within our community, quite accepted and normalized. So therefore it's one of the few places we get within the kink scene to really fuck with society as well.

And like one of the other things that was always kind of fun was like getting loads of pups on the tube together. And you got a hundred pups on the two carriage, runs a site looking around again, what the fuck is going on? I have no idea what's going on. Certainly there are these men in rubber with dog fences on and what is going on or all the businesses around box or around the time of fetch week London, where when I used to work at the climate.

In box or I used to have to tell my colleagues now this week is fetish street London, which means there's going to be a lot of gimps walking around and they're not going to hurt you. And in fact, they're less of a dangerous to our business. And anyway, They're going to go and get fisted and trig piss up fire down the road and that's okay.

And in this business, we support all people, all sexualities, and you can't say you support sexuality without supporting sex. So and that was like these, these opportunities to really, I mean, In those situations, like the pups on the tube and everything like that and, and keeps in box all, it requires kind of almost bumping up against other people and the friction that comes from that.

But I think that piece is one of those things where we bump up against our inner selves. And I think there's a Liberty in being able to discard societal expectations that is You can do it in Dom sub relationships and being a sub I think is a really one has to discard what it means to be a man in society.

And in doing so kind of start to dismantle the patriarchy.

I think that in Paris, You don't have to go into that dark place. It can be fun. It feels like. Punk kind of thing to do rather than a lot of dark submission. I think of a very goth kind of Headspace. It's much more like pisses the pop punk of the fetish world there.

I set it fucking come at me. Pop punk is fun. It's fun to do. It's lighthearted. Don't take it too seriously. And yeah, overall I think that a lot of people can have a lovely time.

Craig: Yeah.

Like, it. I have seen people, especially at the recon parties where they've got the bath tubs out. Just be so fun about it. Like people pissing in their faces and they're just having the biggest grin on their face and just wallowing in, in the tubs.

Buster: Like, how, how do I put this? Right? If you're fishing somebody in a sling and you take your hand out of their ass and you go boop on their nose, it's not going to be a nice thing because they're going to get X all over their face. And the whole thing, if you're pissing on somebody and then you boot them on the nose with your penis, it's like a really humorous thing.

Like so many people do it as well. And it's just like this. It is a opportunity providing both people are on board. In that situation. It's an opportunity to have kind of like a weird intimacy with a stranger. And I've spoken before how, because of the power dynamic for me and this craving for a power dynamic, I don't find any power in a dark room.

Like there's no submission a dark room, but what you can do and the piss room is, is kind of create this free flowing really. Relaxed and fun scene, and then you zip up and you go back and go have a cigar or go for somebody or whatever. And it doesn't need to be, I think it's cause it's like it's enough.

Pissed doesn't need to be this big thing. Like with so much BDSM, it's like, okay, I'm into pain. That means we need to have all this equipment and we need like to have you like the sub warmed up properly. We need to have the Headspace. We need to have the article, have this and that and the other end.

Whereas actually you can you can piss on somebody. And both have a good laugh and then walk away

Craig: Yeah, it can be.

Buster: yeah. Yeah. And don't get me wrong. It can be dark as fuck. And we'll talk about that later. Well, my eyes light up when I say that as well, but either way, like, I think that there's so much in, like it's one of those kinks that I find really.

I wasn't into it naturally. It's not my normal comfort zone of the site. I want to find ways of hurting people in new ways. It was a, yeah. It's like

Craig: Yeah.

Buster: yeah. And like, it was one of those things that I think I've really kind of substituted for a personality in some ways to go like, oh great. I'm now I'm now a piss guy.

And I kind of almost lead with I'm a piss guy. But I don't feel like this is a kink that I think it's one of the few kinks that I'm really into that I wasn't innately

Craig: Yeah.

Buster: didn't become, I didn't come into my sexuality with this, whereas power. Yeah. That was always in.

Craig: Yeah, because I find it interesting how many different ways people can be into this. Like we talk a lot about how, even if you're expressing the same fetish in action, the roots of where it's coming from in your psychology can be wildly different for different people and piss. This seems to have this incredibly broad spectrum of what people get off.

About for some people is like the intimacy of sharing bodily fluids, that way for other people, it is the. Like in a power exchange, D rogatory thing of it's like seen as societal disgusting and unclean, and that's where it comes from. And for some people it's just sort of a conquering thing in.

like power and sub dynamics, like making someone take your piss or having the ability to take your Dawn's piss is like an incredible metaphor for submission.

Buster: Yeah, absolutely. I think. Subs like the, the, the way that it's so often presented is it's very kind of like one sided. a sub the PIs or some like, oh, kind of like, there's this image almost of like all subs, love to drink. Piths and there's just so many different ways that you can be into it.

So many different things you can do. And I think like there's a lot going on for subs in terms of like what subs can get from it. And yeah, I I've spoken about yeah. I've spoken here about like how I don't even feel like it's a submissive thing for me. And yeah, I think that you have to know what you want to get out of.

Any fetish in particular, but like with PIs, because there's this almost like fashion to it at the moment it is it's in Vogue. I think you have to know what you want to get out of it. Like, is this coming from your place of humiliation it's is coming from your place of dedication and deepening a Dominic.

Approach if this coming from that kind of punk mentality where it's disruptive and it's it's kind of societal unclean and then you can start to work out. Well, actually, how do I want to engage in this? Because it's just something that I want to be. Covered in piss is just something that I want to be in the bathtub.

And this pissing on myself and having a whack is, is something that I want somebody to take me into a public toilet and piss into my pants. So it looks like I pissed my. I have to go home and be humiliated in the process. Is this something that I want to drink? Somebody's pissed because it's a subversive thing to do.

Is it something I want to drink? Somebody who's pissed because I can in doing so take bodily fluids from my son into myself.

Craig: Because, I mean, part of the fun, like a lot of people try and.

find they don't like PEs. Part of the fun can be, you are being made to do something you dislike.

Buster: And I think that's one of the fun things about being a Dom as well. You can yeah. Basically make sure that you are not hydrated and in doing so take even somebody who's super into PIs and make them question their decisions. One of the hottest things that we can do as dawns and so often is like taking someone that really, really wants something and then turning what you deliver that like it's the.

It's the fine contract of like asking your your demon for help asking your patron for help. And it's just a better have drafted that contract very, very carefully. Otherwise I will find ways. And then you will regret your decision, but also in doing so you'll feel great about what you're doing. So, yeah, I, I, the.

Th there's so much that both subs and Dom's can get for it in that kind of right. I even in like a dorm setting where like tacos drinking my purse, or I've got somebody with a head harness with a Like a funnel attached to it, or I've got gags that fit a funnel perfectly like an open mouth gags that have a tube going through them and you can link everything up perfectly.

So, or even in those situations, it does.

Craig: Yeah. So one of the things that we frequently get asked in the sort of basics, cause we are, you know, a kink 1 0 1 podcast, and a lot of ways is how do I start with drinking piss? Because. A lot of times the body will just naturally reject a lot of pests. Like I've had a friend who on the first attempt in a club ended up vomiting in the rhinos because his stomach just would not keep the peace in.

So I think it's,

Buster: hot,

Craig: I thought you might find that hot.

Buster: but that's hot.

Craig: But yeah, like, so it should be said, like, sometimes you need a bit of a run-up to like, be able to learn and just to physically take drinking PEs. Obviously the biggest way is home practice with yourself and just start off very, very, very hydrated like as pale and clear as you can get your purse and just start drinking that in small cell. And it's basically building up your tolerance. So you start taking And more start drinking more, more, and then start getting into a more regular sort of hydration level for PIs.

Buster: And I think that like another way I'd be like that is you can, if you put the piss in the fridge, if it's cold is very, very different to if it's warm especially in terms of like what our body wants to accept, I think it's much easier to. Kind of get used to sipping a little bit of cold pers. One of like the things that I did to get my body is to, is like, I like having had a PA I am a messy pier.

I have. Multiple halls, that spray person every possible direction. So generally speaking, if I'm in a kink setting, instead of washing my hands, I'll I'll suck. I'll my fingers clean up. Yup. And just kind of getting used to that super small amount, or just like, as you're paying, you're standing up and you're facing just put a finger back and forward through it a few times.

Why put. I find that a super hot way of flirting with guys who I know are into pets as well. If I get the toilet and then just don't wash my hands and then just go open your mouth and just rub it across that tongue. And like, it just like, okay, here's a little thing I made for you, which yeah. It's like once again, it can be dark or it can be cute dependent on which way, like what your dynamic between the two people have.

Craig: Yeah. Like building up your tolerance for the taste of it and physically take it can be a fun activity.

Buster: Yeah, I think a lot in the way it's it's posed is like in a, oh a sub doing something that they really like naturally rejecting and hating in order to conform, or to be able to have a skill set that they're done. Can there. Use and it doesn't need to be like that. It can be fun. And yeah, I like the even, yeah.

As I said earlier, like lying on your back and pissing all over yourself. That

Craig: a lot

Buster: one of my earliest memories. And I think this is where, like, when I came back around it's peer, so it's just like, oh yeah, like I like being warm. Like this is where I think the whole thing comes from for me. I like being warm.

I'm pissed. This warm.

Craig: Yeah.

Like it can be a really nice sensation when you piss on yourself in the bath. Like I know a lot of people would like post videos of themselves doing that as a way of like solo piss play. And it can be a lot of fun. It's like a sensation play.

Buster: Yeah. And like coming back to like the pissed, the drinking piss side of things, like I don't, having piss in your mouth and then there is swallowing pills.

Craig: Yeah.

Buster: And like, if I'm being pissed on, I want to have my mouth open. I want my mouth being filled with it. I want it running down my cheeks. I want it making a mess of my bed.

I want it like pouring down with chess and I want it soaking my deck. Like this is what I crave in. Like a bottom, I'll call it bottom. Cause it's, as I said, premier, it's not sub it's subversive in that bottom situation. And. Not like I have a tolerance, but yeah, if I was to try and drink a pint of piss, I'd probably be a bit worse, the word for it, because it's not super what I'm into.

And once again, it's about knowing what you want to get out of it, because if you don't want to get out of that drinking piss, then why are you trying to train yourself?

Craig: Yeah, exactly.

Buster: it might be something you develop and you go like, oh, okay. Like I'm so used to having Pierce running through my mouth that like, actually my buddy's completely used to it.

And, and yeah, like if you're used to taking other people's pests, like, say for instance, you're on your knees at a club. Yeah, it could be any straight of hydration that's coming across here. So yeah, like as you get super experienced with that, and that you might end up swallowing more and more, and like doing that as a thing that is an active kink for you, but it doesn't necessarily need to be something that you force granted.

Like, if you can swallow, then you can do it. In the pup toilets as well. Whereas if you're letting it pull it all down yourself, you definitely want to keep that for a wet room.

Craig: Yeah.

Buster: But the, there are some pros and cons sewage.

Craig: Oh, definitely. And it like, it's fun to do this in the shower. Like I've done it in the shower. Yeah.

Buster: To say every morning I piss on myself in the shower and it just feels hot. Is it feels like a nice thing to do. I think that's why I, like, I find it so wholesome as well, because I have it associated with warm showers and like feeling safe. Yeah. Like the thing that we can develop really, really strong associations based on where we experience things from whether or not we feel safe and loved and cared for in those moments.

Craig: Yeah, it it's such a versatile thing. Another thing I always quite like is in lots of stories and videos, the dome will piss on their side. And this is for like a sub Dom dynamic as way to mark them, like an animal in the same way, animals, mark territory of their peers. They will finish the shower, then piss on the sub and tell them to just directly drive themselves off.

Buster: Yeah.

Craig: So they're marked with the like piss scent of the dog for the rest of the day.

Buster: Yeah. Yeah. I mean, mostly that's going to end up with being a piss smelly towel, and you're going to have to wash your towels every day, but this is the pragmatic side of a busser. Just like, can I be wasn't wash towels every day? But yeah, no, like I said, like there's so many different ways of using it to support your dynamic.

I mean, yeah. As with every cake, like, there are ways of like, it's the dynamic, the matters and that, so the kink, but being able to have that in your arsenal is really, really useful.

Craig: so if we just go back, what, what is normal for PIs to take tastes like.

Buster: Oh super salty. Yeah. Even if it's really you're really well-hydrated. You have to remember that like, If something is salty, like in your food, you have a pinch of salt and that in your entire

Craig: Yeah.

Buster: And pierces are like our body's primary way of getting out a protein called urea which is salty.

So yeah, essentially the more. The, the, the kind of the stank of PEs comes from like really concentrated urea, but ultimately it tastes salty. So even if you're completely clear, it's going to taste like drinking salt water, and that's naturally why, like, if you try and from the off, try and drink a shit ton of piss, chances are your body's going to try and throw it up because if you drink a pint of salt water, your body's going to try and throw.

Craig: Yeah.

Buster: As I said, I find that kind of hot, but it's about like easing yourself into it.

Craig: So Yeah, As well as baseline being salty, your PIs can actually be affected by foods and food and drinks.

Buster: Yeah, we all know about asparagus. It is asparagus. Well, you've got to know. Which way, like you've got to know yourself about asparagus. There are three, like it's a genetic thing. If you eat asparagus, it can make your PIs stink, but there is another genetic marker that predicts whether or not you will be able to smell that your piss sticks.

So you might be able to eat asparagus and think that everything's fine. You may have a second opinion and possibly a third opinion on that before you start trying to do this play within three days of eating asparagus. So there's some really interesting medical stuff around that, but yeah, it's.

Asparagus have this profound reaction in the kidneys in the way that what goes into urine. So avoid that chance. And it also makes you come taste pretty disgusting as well. I can confirm that the pineapple making your cum tastes great is bullshit. There's no basis in medicine whatsoever. However yeah, if you eat lots of fruit and your piss taste sugary, then your kidneys, aren't doing their job properly.

Craig: Yeah. Good to know. So we have questions from our listeners. We put out a call and we've got a few questions in, so let's start with a banjo on Twitter and he's asked urinals, should they be encased in rubber or completely naked question mark.

Buster: Oh, I love this because I have this thing in my head where I want a 3d printed hollow, white urinal face mask. So like a full size pub urine. That you can strap. Basically the subs head goes in from behind and it straps to their head so that when you look down, you see a body with a urinal sat on top. And you can smooth it.

Like you, once it's printed, you could submit a VAT, you could vacuum form it. There's all there. Always. You could do it. And the owner of that is just so hot to be like, yeah, like if you're piss shy so often it's like being pissed, shy as a Dom. When somebody is looking up at you, there are the expectations.

When somebody is wearing a urinal head face, there is no option for them to look at you. There is no option for them to have a shred of humanity to them. They're just a urinal. And I find that like, as a guy, like I had to break my picture in us, it wasn't terribly peer shy, but still in the middle of a scene, sometimes it still hits and it's a bit.

To be stood there for like five minutes and trying to push, but not try and shoot yourself in the process, which then makes the process, the whole thing, even worse. But yeah, like when I saw that question, I was like, oh yeah, my, my dream of like the urinal should be head to toe removed from. Removed from humanity and have a urinal strapped to their face.

But I like my urinals and catsuits because it's kind of fun. I like cat suits that slinky.

Craig: I have to agree if you're going down the sort of dehumanizing you are Uranus you're I know root rubber is that sort of dehumanizing alienating, encapsulating feel for the sub. So I'm also team rubber on this. Like, I can see the appeal of being naked because you're basically reaffirming.

This is a human who is being made to take. So like there is that for like the team naked people, but personally I prefer rubber.

Buster: Yeah. I, I, I think that if I'm doing a scene with somebody in which I will get them to drink Lopez, they will like almost entirely my substantive. Like cloak male naked, male dusting, swimmer. So almost entirely like my subs are naked and which guys fun. Like it's part of a scene if they're being installed in a toilet or if they're being installed in a public space, if you're a sex party or something like that, I want them here to tell them rubber.

I want them to know sure that their humanity remaining.

Craig: Nice. Okay. So I think that's fairly definitively answered that question. So,

Buster: Well done. Banjo, have a pet pat, pat, pat,

Craig: good mud.

Buster: stupid dog.

Craig: So next comes from a master Harry hypnotist on mustard on, and he asks, I'm curious about how people feel about fresh Pierce versus old PEs or your own peers versus pissed from someone else.

Buster: I will. It depends what you're trying to get out of it. Yeah. Once you know what you're out of it, what you want to get out this, then the rest follows. I I'm not, I'm not here for old place. But then like, if somebody was like a proper fucking dirty pig and I wanted to make them choke and be forced to choke down and they were like all in, I would have old battery acid piss that was poorly hydrated to begin with.

And yeah, w if it was left, open would stink out my entire house. And yeah, like that, that I guess the benefit of Opus, or like fitting over somebody, if you're trying to humiliate somebody by pissing on them and then having them go about society stinking, then you're going to want Opus.

Craig: Yeah, it, there's also a thing of like old PIs can be stored in ways that keeps it semi fresh. Like I know of a story of someone who's dumb kept all his pissing jars from. And what he would do is he would melt it and reheat it in the oven to do a drenching scene with the sub later in the bathtub. So would just have this gallons and gallons of PIs to keep pouring over them.

Buster: I mean, that's hard.

Craig: Yeah.

Buster: That's crazy hot. Like if it's warm and yeah. Have a bucket full of holes and then fill it and that train out over minutes of just like being absolutely drenched in Paris. Yeah. That's hot. I'm down for that.

Craig: And on the sort of your own versus someone else that, again, depends on what you personally get out of Paris. If like it's the sensation play of just pissing on yourself in the bath. That's fun. You can have all by yourself. If it's actually the connection, whether it be Dom sub or just fun with someone else, it would have to be someone else's piece.

I imagine.

Buster: Yeah. Like this there's also kind of, I read that. I was like, okay, would I give somebody else's pierced? Would I get their boyfriends, piss and midway through the session when they're not expecting it for three than their boyfriend's piss or something along those lines of just like something new and inventive to do.

I prefer to have them drink from the tap.

Craig: Oh, good. And I think this is related. So also another one for master Don. We have, I'm not going to try and pronounce this. I'm just going to spend that SS, sorry. S X S D V. Sorry. I don't know how that's meant to be pronounced. Is there a big difference in how people approach it when it's part of a DS dynamic or a humiliation kink versus its own thing?

I think we've covered this there fairly thoroughly.

Buster: all of the above.

Craig: Yeah. Like, yes, he is very different than people are very different motivations for dodging in piss play and how they do it.

Buster: Yeah. And it might be that actually two people indulging it for very different reasons. Look exactly the same from an outside perspective.

Craig: Yeah. So yeah, those are our listening questions. Thank you very much. Anyone who wants to writing questions for any of our past episodes or anything you want us to cover? Feel free to write into us. We've got a Twitter Mastodon, Gmail. And even a website with a submission form, all can be found in the show notes.

Cause we love answering your questions.

Safety

Buster: Now something we do need to talk about around some of the safety concerns and how we mitigate those. I think it's really important to kind of cover these kinds of things. Not least. I mean, th there are, there are some. Medical side to this that should be taken into account as well as other things.

Not this, the fact that a lot of medications , are broken down by the body and expelled in the piss. So you might not get. It's been partly metabolized and then being expelled, you might get a derivative of that medication, MIB, something completely different. We're not doctors, we're not pharmacologists.

So that's a, that's an in detail discussion does pharmacologist or. So if you're on any particular medication might be worth looking at up there's lots of information on drugs.com or if you're in the UK, the B and F the British national formula formula layer tree, I think it is. Which is the book that all doctor, when you go see a doctor and they flip through a book on their desk before prescribing you something, it's got all the drug interactions and everything like that.

And that's available online if you just Google BNF. But the key ones I would talk about both in medications and recreational drugs, opioids. If somebody, especially if somebody is taking a great deal of opioids over a long period of time whether those are prescribed or not, whether that's like everything from Co-codamol all the way up to morphine methadone, heroin, fentanyl somebody who's built up a, quite a tolerance.

So that might be at a. Be able to take really, quite a lot of those. And therefore what ends up in their piss might be significantly more than your body can handle. I wouldn't think of it as a number one risk to always be on the lookout for. But it's certainly worthwhile burying your mind. If you're playing with people who are really, really engaged in the camp, sex sin it's one of those risk mitigations that you might want to check what people have been taking.

The other thing that can really carry across this really well known recreationally is siliciden which the active ingredient in magic mushrooms and a lot of, kind of like old, urban legends track too, about how like people would drink their PIs having the day after having taken mushrooms, because it was, they got high all over again, but it was a cleaner kind of high absolutely psilocybin.

I don't know about whether it's a cleaner kind of high. Psilocybin does carry through and it's excreted in urine. So if you are taking major mushrooms with a partner and you're drinking their PIs, you may be getting more psilocybin, the new bargain for

Craig: And there's one more. I was just going to say there's also the everyday thing of caffeine. And I learned this the hard way because I'm pretty much the first time I ever tried drinking piss it was with a guy who had been drinking vodka and red bulls or that. It makes his piss taste like red bull, but it also meant when I went to try and sleep that night, I certainly could not,

Buster: surely that was just the high of drinking piss for the first time.

Craig: could have been, but I think it's Probably the red bull.

Buster: Probably the caffeine. Yeah. Th that is my understanding that some anti-psychotic anti-psychotics can carry across also antibiotics. Cause a lot of them antibiotics come out in the urine. And really they saturate all of the body's issues and the bladder is no different. So certainly if somebody is taking a lot of antibiotics, You should be aware of.

So why they're taking so many antibiotics and what that's for. And secondly yeah, it's worthwhile just being aware of that. Some medical conditions can fundamentally change urine as well. Most notable obviously like UTIs, urinary tract infections, bladder infections a bit more relevant with the femme doms, but yeah, it's possible.

STRs obviously. Living in the the urinary tract can then cause issues there. If you're drinking that and you're bringing those bacteria very, very close to your respiratory tract might be worth waiting till after the antibiotics that are there's a few medical conditions that might make it dangerous to be a pistol.

Or I should say it might make it dangerous for the sub to drink that pers rhabdo my losis, which is a muscle wasting issue caused by over-exercise, which is something fairly common in the gay world. The people are doing far too much exercise and muscle start to break down and the purse is orange.

And essentially it has so much more urea in it that it is toxic. You if you are able to drink that, then my hats off to your tolerance, but probably not safe obviously issues with the kidneys can affect it. And liver cirrhosis can affect the content of the urine. If somebody is really quite unwell, it's maybe worthwhile going back and doing very low amounts and checking that it's okay.

Or check, check with the doctor. The doctors are in a position where they are bound legally with confidentiality around stuff like this. So you can ask your doctor I'm into pets. Is it somebody, is it safe? Somebody drink my purse and they may have to do some looking up. But that is something that I don't think any doctor would do for you, for us.

I'd much rather you ask and be told no. Or be told yes than not to ask and have hard come

Craig: Oh,

Buster: medical run over.

Craig: Yeah. So those are all factors you need to be aware of just when you're engaging in.

Buster: Hmm.

Scene Ideas

Craig: So shall we talk about, cause I know you love doing this. Some examples scenes people can do.

Buster: Yeah. Yeah. So this one's for the doms thumbs. I want you to imagine that you get in from work, you take off your coat, you put it down, you walk into the living room and you see a slave camp and had to so rubber on his knee. He's chastity cage showing and his mouth open rubber hood on with only his mouth exposed. He's available for you to do whatever you want. And so you piss in his path and because he's on the living room carpet, you remind him that he'd been not drop a drip.

And so he cups and he hiccups. And he's trying to stop himself. He's trying to catch up. He's trying to stop himself from gagging. He's struggling to drink it, but he drinks every drop for you because he loves you. And because he'll do whatever you tell him to do

Craig: Nice.

Buster: you and your boyfriend go out to a. You're wearing rubber, he's wearing leather. He pulls out a rubber hood and pulls it over your head to make you into that gimp.

You can't see your eyes are covered. So he takes you by the hands he supports here and he holds here and then he tells you to walk with them. And before long you're nailing on a calls, hard tiles bathroom floor. You put a gag in your mouth and opens it up and forces your mouth wide.

You feel the piss start to run into UML and instinctively you swallow you swallow. And so. That's what I, and it's done, but then you feel more purpose and you hear your boyfriend telling the guys to not be shy. Don't use that your own low over here, come over here. This one's made of rubber. And in your head, you see that line of guys through the toilet and the, or. Okay. Hearing up to fill you up until you cannot take another drop and all that.

While your boyfriend stood behind you holding up your head so that you don't look away, you don't try and pull away is pulling your head back so that you don't spell the single drop.

You're going in to meet a guy you've spoken to him on . You got to know him. He knows you're super into humiliation.

You meet this guy at Starbucks and he sit down and you have a coffee. You feel the click youth, hang out. We could say something like this he's hot, but Brittany has got a big day. I reckon this could be fun. We can have some house and play. You kind of hone it. You not come in a few days because he's told you not to.

And you've done it just to go along with it, to see what he makes of it. I mean, it's a bit of fun in your excuse yourself to go to the bar. And they have these big kind of disabled down cubicles that you have to go into. And there's not a shared bathroom and they're just about shut the door. And he jammed his foot in the door, pushes the door, open, follows UN and shuts it behind them. He orders your aunt, your niece.

He opens your fly and unzips here. And your hard deck is pulsing. He pulls out his Dick and he pisses all over here all over your deck. Your pants are soaked through he's zips up smirks that's you on the head and walks out. You have to find your way home.

Craig: Very hot.

Buster: Craig just rolled it back in his head.

Do one more.

Craig: Yeah. let's do one more. One more story.

Buster: Yeah. One more story time. Okay. So this is, this is actually a real. And I love this, which is I'm texting a guy and he's like management at site, some American bank, some faceless large corporation. It's quite senior management VP of some shit or another. I don't care. I'm an anticapitalist during the day, his Billy big bollix. He is in control of this department.

He likes to throw his weight around. I get the impression he's shouting at the staff and being a bit of a Dick. And so he comes home from work and he texts me, telegrams me and lets me know who's home from work, sends me a picture and he's in his suit or fancy. And he tells me how he's had a bad day at work.

And complaints may basically about his staff. And like I tell him to piss himself, go stand in your bathtub and pitch yourself in your suit. Piss yourself. Now, take out your Dick and piss all over your shirt and tie as well. You need to be reminded about what here. And subs, they forget sometimes about what they are and they like to swing themselves around, but he knows what he is and he did not hesitate to her, but I'm into that.

Craig: Very nice.

Buster: Anticapitalist pissing contest. The name of my new album.

Craig: So those were some very hot ideas and listeners, I hope given you some inspiration.
